CANADIAN BRIEF FOR EMPIRE MEETING

ARBITRATING IRISH DISPUTE

Valera Leaves For London to Meet British Premier

Free State Tariff Fight Delayed Pending Outcome

Canadian Press
Dublin, July 15.—President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State left for London to-day to discuss with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald differences which have arisen from the Free State's default on June 30 of the semi-annual payment of the land annuities, which amount to £3,000,000 yearly.

High hopes of an agreement and arbitration of the dispute and stoppage of the economic warfare between Britain and the Free State which is commencing were held here as the President accepted the invitation to go to London, tendered through William Norton, Irish Labor leader, who controls the seats in the Dail which give President de Valera's republican government its balance of power.

"Obviously," remarked President de Valera as he left, "there is nothing I can say now. I was invited to go to London by Mr. MacDonald and I have accepted. The rest remains to be seen."

ACTION DELAYED
Action by the Free State against British goods is delayed pending the outcome of the London meetings. The Dail merely gave first reading by a majority of 66 to 51—to the republican financial resolution which preceded the "emergency imposition of duties bill," the latter measure carrying provisions which would enable the government to impose duties of any amount at its discretion.

Meanwhile great quantities of livestock and dairy products had been rushed out of the Free State to British ports and to northern Ireland, where the anti-Free State duties of course do not apply, before the British duties went into effect at midnight last night.

SEEK COMPROMISE
Canadian Press
London, July 15.—A tribunal of four members, two to be appointed by Britain and two to be appointed by the Irish Free State, is believed to be the solution of the Anglo-Irish deadlock over the composition of a board to arbitrate the land annuities dispute.

With Great Britain so far insisting on an empire tribunal and the Irish Free State demanding an international body, no steps had been made towards solving the dispute, and a tariff war between the two countries was an immediate eventuality when early today dramatic announcement was made that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and President Eamon de Valera would confer in London to-night on a compromise plan.

Two Canadians Lead In King's At Bisley

Capt. J. W. Houlden and Sgt. Alec. Parnell First at End of Second Stage

Score 146 Out of Possible 150; Lieut. Burke Winner of Grand Aggregate

Canadian Press
Bisley Camp, Eng., July 15.—Two Canadians, Capt. J. W. Houlden, Sherbrooke, and Sgt. Alec. Parnell, Verdun, Que., led the entire field in the second stage of the classic King's prize this afternoon. In the shoot-off for the silver medal, Houlden was the winner. Houlden and Parnell had totals of 146 out of a possible 150, as the 300 eligibles fired in the second stage.

Among the 100 qualifying for the final of the empire's service rifle shooting classic to-morrow are nine Canadians, with scores of 140 or better, while CSM. H. Rusk, Ottawa, with 139, shoots off with forty-one others for twenty-five remaining places.

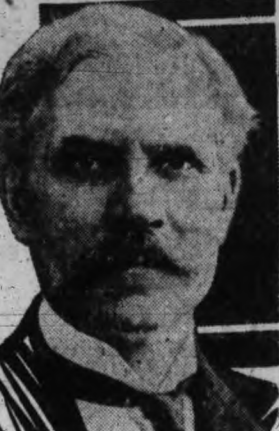

Lieut. Desmarest, winner of the King's prize in 1924, and winner of this year's grand aggregate, was eliminated from the quest for the blue ribbon by shooting 137 to-day. The only woman ever to win the King's prize, Miss Marjorie Foster (gold medalist of 1930), was also eliminated with 135.

The Canadians among the "King's hundred" to-morrow and their scores to-day, which count in determining the results, are:

Capt. Houlden, Sherbrooke..... 146
Sgt. Parnell, Verdun..... 146
St. Jensen, Inverell, Alta..... 142
Sgt. G. F. Parker, St. John..... 142

PRESIDENT EAMON DE VALERA of the Irish Free State

London, July 15.—President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State arrived this evening for a conference with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

BAGLEY REPORT INCORRECT

ASK FEDERAL REPRESENTATIVE

Municipal Union Delegates See Acting Premier on New Relief Move

Federal Minister Promises Speedy Investigation Into Request

Mayor Leeming, of Victoria, and Reeve Crouch, of Saanich, representing the Union of B.C. Municipalities, called upon Acting Premier Pooley this morning and requested the provincial government to petition Ottawa for a Dominion administrator in this province to handle unemployment problems.

This request, stated Mr. Pooley, already had been sent to Ottawa without result. Premier S. P. Tomin, who is still in the federal capital, will take the matter up with the Ottawa government to-day, also requesting a definite agreement between both governments dealing with unemployment.

The interview with the Acting Premier to-day was an outcome of the conference held in Vancouver Tuesday night by the executive of the union, when dissatisfaction with the manner in which the provincial government was handling the relief problem was expressed.

Hon. W. A. Gordon, Dominion Minister of Labor, this morning assured Mayor Leeming over the long distance telephone from Ottawa that he would immediately call together the unemployment committee of the federal government to consider appointment of a direct federal representative to investigate unemployment conditions in British Columbia.

League Will Call World Conference

Geneva, July 15.—The council of the League of Nations, pursuant to the agreement reached at Lausanne, decided to-day to issue a call for a world monetary and economic conference.

The date and place have not yet been determined. In accordance with the Lausanne agreement, the United States will be asked to participate and also to designate two members of the preparatory commission.

Quebec To Fight Waterway Plan

Montreal, July 15.—In a despatch from Quebec City The Montreal Gazette to-day says that the Attorney-General's Department is preparing for a legal fight to block the St. Lawrence Waterways project "the minute the work starts or a further move is made."

"Premier Taschereau," the paper will add, "has stated plainly that he would not allow the work to be started without utilizing all legal means. The Legislature has unanimously adopted a resolution opposing the scheme."

From one point of view only, the policy of the province of Quebec to attract Americans to establish industries here by promoting the export of power across the border, would become futile if the scheme is carried out. This is one of the main objections of the government.

The despatch also says: "A split in the ranks of the Conservative members from this province at the next session on the St. Lawrence seaway project and a similar break in the Conservative ranks in general throughout the province is foreseen among political observers here to-day."

Wanted Wife; Got Photo Of Greta Garbo

Montreal Immigrant Advertised for Mate in Central European Newspaper; "Girl" Who Answered Sent Photograph and Wanted $500 for Passage Money; Man Got Unpleasant Surprise When Boat Docked.

Montreal, July 15.—Here is the story of a man who advertised for a wife. Coming from one of the Central European countries to Quebec, Henry Prysky took up land in the northern part of this province, cleared it and, in time, built himself a cottage and a barn.

The only thing lacking was a wife. He wrote an advertisement and sent it to a newspaper in his home country. The result was a shoal of applications. All the girls—except one—described their physical charms. They could cook, plough, make butter, bake bread, scrub and sew.

But the letter which caught his bachelor fancy was "beautifully written," he said later. He answered it, asking for a photograph of the girl. A photograph arrived and completed the conquest.

The next missive said she was ready to leave. Would the fiance send with her ticket the sum of $500 so that she could buy suitable clothes. He did so, and when the ship on which she was to sail reached Quebec he was at the docks.

The bride was not on board. He wrote to her, but his letters were returned by the post office. "You have a picture of the lady," the lawyer remarked. "That might help us to find her. Can you let me see it?"

He could. It was a photograph of Greta Garbo.

A photograph arrived and completed the conquest.

Python's Stage Fatal Duel For Tasty Pig

Philadelphia, July 15.—Evidence of jungle-like drama in the snake house of the Philadelphia Zoo was revealed to keepers when they found a large python crushed to death by another python, apparently in a struggle over a twenty-five-pound pig.

The thick glass about the enclosure was shattered and other marks about the cage indicated the two huge reptiles, one twenty feet long and the other eighteen, had engaged in a battle to the death.

The eighteen-foot snake lay dead in one corner, while in another corner, placidly coiled, was the victor, a huge bungle in his middle indicating he had won not only the battle but the pig as well. The pig was, in fact, the first meal the python had eaten in eighteen months.

ORANGEMEN AND CATHOLICS RIOT

Fine Stained Glass Windows in Liverpool Broken; Fighting in Belfast

Canadian Press
Liverpool, Eng., July 15.—A crowd of Orangemen, singing hymns, attacked the cathedral here and shattered four stained-glass windows, said to be among the best examples of their kind, with stones in rioting yesterday evening.

The attack on the cathedral followed one of a series of clashes between Orange and Catholic rivals, which blocked traffic on Park Road, one of the main thoroughfares, and neighboring streets. The powers of the police were seriously taxed.

The rioting began Wednesday night and despite urgent appeals by the leaders on both sides was renewed yesterday.

SIXTY-YEAR MARK BROKEN

All Local Records For July Rainfall Shattered in Two Weeks

St. Swithin's Day Wet, But Moon Experts Predict Change Sunday

Although St. Swithin's Day dawned in a drizzle of rain here, this by no means convinced the official weather observer that similar conditions would prevail for the next forty days, according to the old traditions, and he is looking for a change shortly.

With 1.70 inches recorded on the gauge at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory in two weeks, Victoria has had a record July rainfall for fifty-nine years and brighter weather during the last half of the month is anticipated.

The year 1932, little more than half gone, has already recorded itself as a period of abnormal wetness in this part of the country, the superintendent said. Precipitation figures for recent years have been broken in several parts of the Island and lower mainland.

WETTEST JULY
The heavy downpour of the last week has set this month apart as the wettest July since recording of the weather commenced in 1874. When the reading was taken at noon 1.70 inches for the month was shown. This surpasses by nearly half an inch the previous wet July, which was in 1893, 1.24 inches. In July, 1916, 1.23 inches fell and both figures are for the full month.

Vancouver has had more than twice as much rain this month as Victoria, the record up to 5 o'clock this morning being 4.30 inches, which is well above the average.

HELPS SOME
F. Napier Denison, Dominion Meteorologist, pointed out, however, that every cloud has a silver lining, and while the rain may spoil things for campers and holiday-makers, it means a big saving for the citizens who usually pay a heavy water bill in July for their gardens and has practically eliminated the forest fire hazard. Always serious at this period of the year, for the time being.

Little stock in St. Swithin's Day tradition is placed by the superintendent. It applies more to England, where it originated, and does not hold here with any regularity, he said.

Moon observers and horoscope readers, placing more in England, where it originated, and does not hold here with any regularity, he said.

LOST LAST YEAR
Washington, July 15.—To-day is St. Swithin's Day. Tradition says that whatever kind of weather prevails to-day will hold for the next six weeks. The United States weather Bureau predicts fair skies for at least most of the day to-day, but is willing to bet there will be plenty of rain between now and September 1.

St. Swithin last year.

Two Escape In Car Somersault

Following a tire blowout which caused both tire and rim to fly off the wheel, a car driven by Bud Green, 2629 Vancouver Street, catapulted off Blenkinsop Road, turned two somersaults and landed upside down in a ditch yesterday afternoon. Mr. Green and his companion, Robert Carlisle, 1318 Ivy Street, escaped with minor injuries.

The car was badly damaged. After turning over twice it came to rest in the ditch pointing in the opposite direction of which it had been traveling.

Mr. Green was taken to the Jubilee Hospital for medical treatment. His arm having been gouged. Mr. Carlisle sustained minor cuts and bruises.

Press Demand For Gasoline Inquiry

Disagreement of Governments Over Responsibility For Investigation Is Maintained and Resentment at Price Increase Rises; Provincial Cabinet Interviewed

While the breach between the provincial and federal governments over the responsibility for investigation of gasoline prices grew wider, the movement launched by the Automobile Club and the City Council for cheaper motor fuel gained impetus to-day.

Negotiations undertaken by Alderman W. D. Todd, chairman of the business and trade development committee of the council, to import a new brand of gasoline from Seattle were reported nearing a head. Meanwhile the Automobile Club delivered a return broadside at both the government and the gasoline wholesalers, answering statements which had been made relative to the situation.

MERCY FLIGHT PROVES FUTILE

Saskatchewan Pilot Battles Storm in Vain to Save Injured Woman

Canadian Press
Saskatoon, July 15.—One of the most hazardous of mercy flights ever undertaken in Saskatchewan to-day proved in vain when Mrs. Helen Semenov, died in hospital here, victim of terrible burns sustained yesterday when an oil stove exploded at her home in Arlee, Sask.

Risking death in a dangerous take-off, Pilot Angus Campbell flew to Arlee yesterday evening during one of the most severe storms in the history of this locality. The outward trip of only forty miles, took one hour of perilous flying, during which the pilot encountered terrific head winds. The return to Saskatoon, with the injured woman, was accomplished in fifteen minutes.

Mrs. Semenov, wife of William Semenov, hardware merchant of Arlee, suffered terrible burns to her body, hands and face in the explosion.

BRACKEN NOW WELL IN LEAD

Manitoba Premier's Majority Grows in Deferred Pas Riding Poll

Canadian Press
The Pas, Man., July 15.—Reports from two more polls to-day increased the substantial lead of Premier John Bracken in the deferred election in The Pas riding. With eight small polls still to be heard from, the standing is: Premier Bracken, 1983; N. S. McDonald, Ind.-Labor Party, 1150; and H. F. Moulton, Ind.-Cons., 189. Mr. Bracken's election has been conceded.

In a brief statement to-day the premier thanked the voters.

In the Rupert's Land deferred election, Hon. Ewan McPherson, provincial treasurer, had a good lead on the four polls reporting, with 176 votes, compared with 49 for N. Evans Atkinson, Independent, and 47 for H. C. Beresford, also an Independent. Owing to lack of communication in this sparsely-settled riding it is expected further reports will be considerably delayed.

Ellis, committing her into the custody of Catholic Children's Aid Society, Vancouver, twelve-year-old Mary Ruth Ward, an orphan, attempted to jump from a window of the courtroom Thursday afternoon. The child's hysterical cries resounded throughout the courthouse.

As the girl jumped on a chair for the purpose of leaping through the window, she was restrained by friends. Provincial police were called in to enforce the order surrendering the child to the Children's Aid, but the officers refused to interfere, taking the girl home.

Results of Exhaustive Survey Throughout Country Handed to Ottawa Government For Information of Conference Delegates

B.C.-LONDON LOANS ARE REFERRED TO

Canadian Press
Montreal, July 15.—Results of one of the most ambitious and comprehensive surveys ever undertaken on the subject of Canada's commercial relations within the empire have now been placed in the hands of the Dominion Government at Ottawa.

Based on answers to an elaborate questionnaire sent to over 100 Chambers of Commerce throughout the country, a report has been prepared at headquarters of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce here for the information of delegates to the Imperial Conference.

In announcing the completion and transmission of the report, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to-day made special reference to an exhaustive study of the interpretation and administration of tariffs contained in the document. This subject, officials point out, is particularly important having regard to present fluctuations in money exchange rates.

MONEY POLICIES
The text of the report is not being made public. A statement issued by the Chamber of Commerce says in part: "The problem of quota empire monetary policies, marketing methods and attitude towards foreign nations is referred to. British investment policy has a place also, matter of immediate interest owing to the re-entrance of Canadian provinces such as British Columbia into the London loan market."

"Particularly detailed and constructive suggestions are put forward on import opportunities in Canada for both products and consumer goods from the empire. Export to other empire countries, cable and postal services are also discussed."

ANGELUS TEMPLE LISTED FOR SALE

Evangelist, Critically Ill, Reported to Be Seeking Buyer

Financial Straits Given As Reason By Husband

Los Angeles, July 15.—Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, beset by what her physician said was a critical illness, was reported to-day as seeking someone to take over Angelus Temple, which she founded in 1923, and of which she is pastor.

Negotiations for the purchase of the temple were said to have been opened between David L. Hutton Jr., husband of the evangelist, and the Rev. Ernest Roberts, an associate of the Rev. Ernest Rader, owner of another of the city's tabernacles. "Any negotiations occurring to date came from the temple," said Jonathan E. Perkins, business manager for Mr. Rader.

"We have made no overtures here at the tabernacle. Following Mr. Roberts' visit with Hutton at Lake Balnareyre yesterday, he came to us saying Hutton had told him the temple was in such financial straits that it was necessary to get rid of it at once."

Mrs. Hutton remained at the Lake Balnareyre resort to-day, her physician, Dr. Edward H. Williams, declaring her condition too critical to permit her removal in an ambulance to a Los Angeles hospital. The evangelist is suffering from a nervous breakdown of a year ago, an ailment contracted on a recent Central American tour and the after-effect of a brain concussion she received when she fainted and fell to the floor on being informed her husband had lost a breach of promise suit to Myrtle St. Pierre, a young Pasadena nurse.

Quebec Objects To St. Lawrence Scheme

Province Ignored, Says
Premier Taschereau; He Terms Waterway "Grotesque Proposition"

Quebec, July 15.—Premier L. A. Taschereau today described the St. Lawrence Waterways agreement between Canada and the United States as a "national crime."

It was a "grotesque proposition," he said in a statement yesterday, "the intention that the government of Quebec had been ignored in negotiations for the agreement."

"We can be sure of one thing above all others," he declared. "Our government will be found ready to defend in every way possible our integrity and our territorial and constitutional rights." Mr. Taschereau did not explain the import of these remarks, but added the following: "The whole project seems to be incomprehensible and cannot think that the representatives of the province would consent to it."

The premier gave four reasons for condemning the agreement: "1. It gives the United States 1,000,000 horsepower when if they were deprived of it, they would quickly come into the province and establish industries—as they have already done in Lake St. John and in the St. Maurice district in the eastern townships."

"2. It will add millions of dollars to Canada's debt when her citizens are already heavily taxed, possibly more than they can bear."

"3. This project gives the province of Ontario 1,000,000 horsepower on conditions infinitely superior to those of other provinces, seeing that this enormous quantity of power would go to the Ontario Hydro, whereas our electric power companies are heavily taxed and the Dominion authorities have refused to put them on the same footing as the Ontario power system."

"4. If this waterway ever becomes useful for navigation by sea-going vessels, severe competition would have to be faced by the railways, and the railways are now at the end of their tether."

In reply to a statement made at Montreal by Hon. Alfred Durand, Minister of Marine, to the effect that the provinces of Quebec had been kept advised of negotiations leading to the St. Lawrence Treaty, Mr. Taschereau said: "I do not like to tax Mr. Durand with bad faith, but his statement is absolutely contrary to the facts. If we have been kept advised regarding these negotiations, I would ask Mr. Durand to publish any correspondence of this subject which has been exchanged between us."

"Mr. Durand knows also perfectly well that the Hon. Mr. Bennett has never kept us informed of these negotiations while they were in progress between Washington and Ottawa."

"I had occasion to declare during the last session that this canalization was a national crime, and I withdrew nothing from what I have said."

THREE KILLED IN DULUTH AIRPLANE

Duluth, Minn., July 15.—Three men were killed yesterday evening when a six-passenger airplane crashed here just off St. Louis Bay, near the heart of the city.

The dead: Hank O'Hara, twenty-three, pilot; Duluth, Robert Beah, eighteen, Duluth, and Lloyd Ruce, Virginia, Minn.

O'Hara was flying about 300 feet above the bay, the plane suddenly went into a tail spin and crashed to the shore, pinning the occupants beneath it.

Strawberry Vale

The Women's Missionary Society of Wilkinson Road United Church met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. Edge, Darcy Road. Mrs. Jewell presided and about twenty members were present. Mrs. Gausson read the scripture lesson and duet. "One Sweetly Sought Thought," was sung by Rev. W. Allan and Mrs. Allan. The pastor gave an address on the Indian mission at Kitimat, showing difficulties in presenting the truth to the natives. His talk was illustrated with a number of snap-

BUTTER QUOTA STAND NEUTRAL

Canada Studies Attitude to New Zealand Conference Plea

Ottawa, July 15.—Canada will likely assume a more or less neutral attitude in regard to New Zealand's request for a butter quota system as outlined by the New Zealand delegation to the Imperial Conference which reached Victoria yesterday. It is assured here the proposal is that Great Britain adopt a quota system by which a certain percentage of all the butter imported into the United Kingdom should come from British dominions. Canada exports both butter and cheese to Great Britain—Canadian cheese obtains a premium over all other cheese imported into the United Kingdom. On the other hand, its butter sells at a discount as compared with New Zealand and other countries. Accordingly, the tendency in the agricultural department here is to encourage the production of cheese and limit the production of butter to the domestic demand.

FIRE DOES $50,000 DAMAGE
Spokane, July 15.—Fire in the west hangar of the 116th Observation Squadron, Washington National Guard, at Feltz Field late yesterday, damaged at least $50,000 worth of buildings and equipment, according to an official estimate. No planes were destroyed.

NANAIMO PAIR REACH FINAL

Barton and Ewens in Deciding Round of Wee McKay
Doubles in B.C. Bowling

Vancouver, July 15.—Laying their wools end after end with deadly precision, Barton and Ewens, Nanaimo, bowled their way into the final of the Wee McKay doubles in the third day's play of the tenth annual British Columbia lawn bowling tournament here yesterday.

The Nanaimo pair displayed all of the form that gave them victories in three events last year when they won the Nelson and Nabob rink trophies, and Ewens carried off the Chambers silverware as champion of champions. Yesterday evening Barton and Ewens downed Fairley and Mandley (Stanley Park), 14-12 to enter the final against Clare and Hoyt (New Westminster) today.

The Nanaimo bowlers are also in competition yet in the Nelson and Nabob rinks play.

Joe Strachan (Vancouver Heights) swept through seven ends to defeat Mark Decew (West Point Grey), 15-1, and win the Spalding novice singles title. Decew was blanked in all but the tenth end when he managed to lay one shot, for his single point.

WANT ACTION AT GENEVA

Business Women Score Slowly of Technical Committees on Disarmament

Miss Mary McGeachy Gives Address on International Co-operation

Vancouver, July 15.—Addressing an open meeting here yesterday under the auspices of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, in connection with the annual convention, Miss Mary Craig McGeachy, only woman member of the information bureau of the League of Nations at Geneva, declared the League of Nations, when it was formed, was the crystallization of public emotion in the desire for immediate peace. The most important lesson the world has learned in the last twelve years, she said, was the long slow progress of learning to think, individually, nationally and finally internationally, in terms of co-operation in every field.

POLITICAL STABILITY AIM

The activities of the league since its beginning, the speaker said, have been divided into two classes, the technical and the political, and one of its main efforts has been to increase the number of subjects which the nations may deal with in the technical field, in which it may learn co-operation in subjects which might have brought conflict if they remained in the political arena.

The consequent development of social security will aid the final of all aims, political stability. The final test of security would be the league's success in achieving world disarmament, said Miss McGeachy, and the reason that the disarmament conference fell below expectations was because political security was at its lowest ebb this year, one of the causes being the Manchurian crisis.

OTTAWA CONFERENCE

Public opinion has been divided, and it has been reflected in the mirror at Geneva. The first material step towards progress, she felt, was the news from Lausanne, a concrete example that at last co-operative thinking, which is the life blood of the whole organization, has really begun. It must continue to flow at Ottawa next week, when success of the conference there will mean that individuals and nations have learned the essential truth of co-operation.

WANT ACTION

A resolution scoring the "apparent lack of satisfactory progress" by technical committees on disarmament was passed at the afternoon session of the convention. The gathering under the Canadian Government maintains full representation at Geneva throughout the conference for reduction and limitation of armaments, and press for definite action.

The resolution was presented by Miss Mel M. Taylor, Montreal, and was approved by Miss McGeachy.

ROUND TABLE HELD

Consideration of business arising from reports and round table discussions occupied most of the day's session. A discussion on membership brought many suggestions, and it was decided the office of federation would be greatly assisted by naming annual national and international club nights. The Newsletter, official quarterly publication of the association, will be continued under the same name for another year, when a new title will be chosen.

Miss Ethel Thornton, Winnipeg, presided at the round table discussion on "Club Mechanics." Miss Blanche Baker, St. Catharines, discussed finance. The question of junior membership was studied also.

CROSS CHANNEL ON SURF-BOARD

Peer's Sister and Girl Friend Make Perilous Trip; First Attempt

London, July 15.—Lady Katharine Manley, sister of the Earl of Northesk, and Miss Lily Coppleson, a twenty-three-year-old New Zealand girl, crossed the English Channel on surfboards. It was the first time such a feat had been accomplished.

Miss Coppleson, towed by Mr. J. Walker's speedboat Shooting Star, left Dover at 3:35 p.m. and reached Calais, France, a distance of twenty-three miles, in sixty-three minutes. The tow rope was 180 feet long.

Lady Katharine Manley was the surfer for the return journey, which took place on Wednesday.

Miss Coppleson said on landing at Dover: "I have done considerable surfing in New Zealand and Australia. I was fairly confident of being able to get across the Channel. I am delighted at being the first woman to do it. I had cramp in both feet during the last two miles. I intend to try to swim the Channel soon."

Lodge Bushy—Queen of the Island L.O.B.A. 209, held their regular meeting in the Orange Hall Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The speaker was Mrs. D. M. Ashworth. Mrs. Langley kindly offered her home for a garden party on August 3 at 645 Michigan Street, James Bay, from 2 to 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Sadler to be the general convener, home-cooking, Mrs. Keatinge, afternoon tea, Mrs. Winter, candy stall, Mrs. Carlow, house-house, Mrs. Elsmore, ice cream, Mrs. Cory, L.O.B.A. Lodges will meet at the Orange Hall on Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock to accompany the L.O.L. Lodges to divine service at the Metropolitan Church, Pandora Street.

Transplanting Pointers Given by Experts

By DR. WM. A. TAYLOR

There are tricks in moving plants which experienced gardeners are more likely to know than the beginner.

Transplanting disturbs and often breaks the roots of the plants and so interrupts their food and water supply. Plants wilt, not usually as a direct effect of heat, but rather because the leaves give off more moisture than the roots take in.

Shade and moisture are essential. Precautions are more necessary in the summer than in the spring. It is poor policy to transplant on a clear hot day, but better late in the afternoon than in the morning.

If the transplants have lost most of their soil, it often helps to "puddle" the roots, that is, dip the roots into a pail of clay mud about the consistency of a thick soup. This provides moisture which the roots can absorb immediately, protects the root hairs from drying out, and insures that there will be soil in contact with the roots when they are relocated. Always firm the soil well after placing transplants.

Provide shade during the bright days after transplanting. For small plants a shingle or two pushed into the ground at an angle south of the plants is the simplest and most convenient shade. An inverted basket or box will serve for larger plants.

Plants with several true leaves are often harder to transplant than small seedlings. They have developed an evaporation system and they are likely to lose more roots when moved.

In transplanting these the soil should be moist enough to hold together about the roots, yet dry enough to be crumbled after being pressed into a ball. The aim should be to move the plants so carefully as to preserve this ball of earth.

With still larger plants—ones nearly ready to bloom—the spade or spading fork with plenty of humus, granulated peat, or leafmold. These all provide humus and humus absorbs moisture and releases it to the plant as needed. These are excellent to pack into the hole near the roots, particularly in heavy soils.

A natural "sponge" helps in transplanting. This may be in the form of thoroughly rotted compost, woods soil, loam with plenty of humus, granulated peat, or leafmold. These all provide humus and humus absorbs moisture and releases it to the plant as needed. These are excellent to pack into the hole near the roots, particularly in heavy soils.

The Rest Haven School of Singing will hold its graduating exercises July 20 and 21. The business luncheon, delivered by Rev. M. C. Macdonald, chairman of the board of trustees formerly of London, England, will be given on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. and the commencement exercises on Thursday evening at the same hour. The picnic is cordially invited.

International Banquet at Empress Hotel; Sunday to Be Busy Day

About seventy-five delegates and representatives of Canadian Business and Professional Women's Clubs, together with about twenty-five representatives from similar bodies in the United States, will arrive in Victoria to-morrow to attend the week-end festivities arranged as a wind-up to the business sessions of the Canadian Federation, which have been in progress in Vancouver since Wednesday.

The Canadian party will arrive on to-morrow afternoon's boat and will be met here by a reception committee from the local club, including Mrs. E. G. Smyth, Mrs. J. W. Macdonald, Mrs. W. L. Macdonald, Mrs. K. G. Grieve, Misses Teph-Taylor, O. Snyder and Gene McLeod. Registration will be effected at the Empress Hotel, which will be the headquarters for the week-end. Mrs. W. L. Macdonald is in charge of the registration.

The international banquet will be held to-morrow evening in the ballroom at the hotel, and all members of the Victoria club and guests are requested to be at the hotel at 7 o'clock in order to facilitate the seating arrangements for the banquet, which will commence promptly at 7.30 o'clock. Miss Margaret Gray will preside and Miss Mary Craig McGeachy, Canada's only woman representative on the bureau of information at the League of Nations at Geneva, will be the speaker.

SUNDAY PLANS
On Sunday morning a drive is being arranged to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Burchart, leaving town at 9 o'clock. After the drive, the delegates and visitors will return to the Empress Hotel for luncheon at 1 o'clock. This luncheon is open to all members of the local club, who may bring guests if they desire. The luncheon will be followed by an informal round table conference.

At 2 o'clock Sunday, the convention delegates and members of the Victoria club will meet at "Windyhaugh," Fairfield Road, the home of Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, for an informal supper, as the guests of Miss Wiggley and Miss Gray.

The majority of the delegates will leave on Sunday evening for their homes, but any who remain will be taken on to the Parliament Buildings on Monday morning.

Garden Greens For Hot Weather Use

By W. E. BEATTIE

Home gardeners everywhere find it difficult to maintain a supply of tender salad crops during the middle of the summer when the weather is hot and dry.

Lettuce is a cool weather crop and becomes coarse and bitter during hot weather. In fact, growing good head lettuce during the summer is simply out of the question in many places, but you can often grow fair lettuce if you will shade it a trifle, and give it plenty of water.

Spinach sown in rows rather thickly, and used just as soon as the leaves are large enough to cut, makes excellent summer greens. Beets can be planted in the same way, and the young plants pulled for greens when they are about three inches high. A little later you can pull the leaves and use the thinning for greens.

SPINACH AND CHARD
New Zealand spinach is another good summer green that is easy to grow and it will go right on producing thick, tender leaves all summer.

Swiss chard is perhaps the best of our summer greens, because the heat does not seem to affect it. In fact, if you give the plants plenty of moisture and feed them well they seem to do better in hot weather than cool. You simply remove the tender outer leaves and cook them as you want them, and the inner leaves are uninjured by the heat and will produce more tender leaves and stems.

After all is said and done cabbage is one of our best salad greens. You can prepare cabbage in so many ways; raw, creamed as a salad, cooked, pickled, and made into delicious kraut.

CABBAGE IS ALL-YEAR CROP
Early planted cabbage will furnish a supply in early summer and in mid-season; then come the medium and the late varieties to fill out the season with a supply to store for winter. Early Jersey Wakefield, and Copenhagen Market, are popular for early cabbage. All Seasons, Danish Ball Head and Late Flat Dutch are some of the leading mid-season and late varieties. This is the time to plant several of the salad and green crops that can be grown during the summer and early fall in order to maintain a supply of that class of food for that period. Remember that these crops all require a rich, deep soil, and a generous supply of moisture if you want them crisp and tender.

Your Baby
and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

IT IS EASY TO CHANGE FROM
LACTIC ACID TO SWEET MILK

Lactic acid is added to sweet, boiled cows' milk in order to give baby an additional amount of acid for the digestion of the milk. We are so accustomed to the thought of cows' milk for infant feeding that we are prone to forget babies' stomachs were not intended by nature to wrestle with the food intended for a small calf. The elements of human milk and cows' milk are the same, but they are present in very different proportions. Cows' milk demands more acid for digestion than human milk and baby's stomach may be unequal to this greater demand.

IS CHANGE DANGEROUS?
Thorough boiling of the milk renders it more digestible, since it reduces the curd to a state more easily acted upon by the digestive juices. If baby still has difficulty with the milk, the inclusion of lactic acid is very often a solution.

Mrs. V. G. has been using lactic acid milk for her baby since birth. Now she wonders if she dare change to sweet milk. "As soon as I came home from the hospital we put baby on lactic milk," starts her letter. "She has gained beautifully on it and now at eight months weighs twenty-two pounds. Recently she seemed to tire of the milk and usually will not accept but half a feeding. This worries me a lot. I wonder if I could change to sweet milk. Would there be any danger?"

OVERFEEDING
The inclination to leave part of each feeding may be the result of month of overfeeding. "Because of its greater ease of digestion, it is possible to give lactic acid milk in greater quantities than plain sweet milk. That very easily results in overfeeding. Perhaps it would be better to let baby have only a half a bottle than to change milk to inspire a larger feeding."

There is no danger in changing, however. The baby rapidly becomes accustomed to the demands made up his digestion by cows' milk and no longer needs the lactic acid. You can make the change by reducing the number of drops of acid in the formula by about five a day. If the baby is taking a made buttermilk substitute one feeding of sweet milk each week until all feedings are of sweet milk. The first bottle may be of sweet milk, the second one of sweet milk, the third one of sweet milk, the fourth one of sweet milk, the fifth one of sweet milk, the sixth one of sweet milk, the seventh one of sweet milk, the eighth one of sweet milk, the ninth one of sweet milk, the tenth one of sweet milk, the eleventh one of sweet milk, the twelfth one of sweet milk, the thirteenth one of sweet milk, the fourteenth one of sweet milk, the fifteenth one of sweet milk, the sixteenth one of sweet milk, the seventeenth one of sweet milk, the eighteenth one of sweet milk, the nineteenth one of sweet milk, the twentieth one of sweet milk, the twenty-first one of sweet milk, the twenty-second one of sweet milk, the twenty-third one of sweet milk, the twenty-fourth one of sweet milk, the twenty-fifth one of sweet milk, the twenty-sixth one of sweet milk, the twenty-seventh one of sweet milk, the twenty-eighth one of sweet milk, the twenty-ninth one of sweet milk, the thirtieth one of sweet milk, the thirty-first one of sweet milk, the thirty-second one of sweet milk, the thirty-third one of sweet milk, the thirty-fourth one of sweet milk, the thirty-fifth one of sweet milk, the thirty-sixth one of sweet milk, the thirty-seventh one of sweet milk, the thirty-eighth one of sweet milk, the thirty-ninth one of sweet milk, the fortieth one of sweet milk, the forty-first one of sweet milk, the forty-second one of sweet milk, the forty-third one of sweet milk, the forty-fourth one of sweet milk, the forty-fifth one of sweet milk, the forty-sixth one of sweet milk, the forty-seventh one of sweet milk, the forty-eighth one of sweet milk, the forty-ninth one of sweet milk, the fiftieth one of sweet milk, the fifty-first one of sweet milk, the fifty-second one of sweet milk, the fifty-third one of sweet milk, the fifty-fourth one of sweet milk, the fifty-fifth one of sweet milk, the fifty-sixth one of sweet milk, the fifty-seventh one of sweet milk, the fifty-eighth one of sweet milk, the fifty-ninth one of sweet milk, the sixtieth one of sweet milk, the sixty-first one of sweet milk, the sixty-second one of sweet milk, the sixty-third one of sweet milk, the sixty-fourth one of sweet milk, the sixty-fifth one of sweet milk, the sixty-sixth one of sweet milk, the sixty-seventh one of sweet milk, the sixty-eighth one of sweet milk, the sixty-ninth one of sweet milk, the seventieth one of sweet milk, the seventy-first one of sweet milk, the seventy-second one of sweet milk, the seventy-third one of sweet milk, the seventy-fourth one of sweet milk, the seventy-fifth one of sweet milk, the seventy-sixth one of sweet milk, the seventy-seventh one of sweet milk, the seventy-eighth one of sweet milk, the seventy-ninth one of sweet milk, the eightieth one of sweet milk, the eighty-first one of sweet milk, the eighty-second one of sweet milk, the eighty-third one of sweet milk, the eighty-fourth one of sweet milk, the eighty-fifth one of sweet milk, the eighty-sixth one of sweet milk, the eighty-seventh one of sweet milk, the eighty-eighth one of sweet milk, the eighty-ninth one of sweet milk, the ninetieth one of sweet milk, the ninety-first one of sweet milk, the ninety-second one of sweet milk, the ninety-third one of sweet milk, the ninety-fourth one of sweet milk, the ninety-fifth one of sweet milk, the ninety-sixth one of sweet milk, the ninety-seventh one of sweet milk, the ninety-eighth one of sweet milk, the ninety-ninth one of sweet milk, the hundredth one of sweet milk.

There are some babies who constantly prefer acid to sweet milk, and for them this milk may be continued indefinitely. Whether of the natural, churned kind or made with lactic acid.

Pimples Disfigured Face. Burned Badly. Healed by Cuticura.

"I had been troubled for about a month with pimples which were fairly large. They were scattered all over my face and disfigured it. The pimples festered and became very itchy, causing me to scratch, and when I did they would break and then burn badly. They made me feel very uncomfortable and kept me from sleeping many a night. A friend told me about Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample of each. I purchased more and after using two cakes of Soap and one box of Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Katherine Shick, Oak Bank, Man.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25c and 50c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address Canadian Depot: Lyman Agencies, Limited, 256 St. Paul St., W., Montreal.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

Marketing would be the first step. Cherry washed her face and hands, dabbed on powder and then got into her coat and hat. Just in time she remembered the most have her key and went back for it.

The grocery store was a block away. Mentally Cherry checked over the list of things she must buy. It would have to be a large order. She wanted beefsteak for dinner—something to go with it and potatoes, of course. There must be a salad. Stuffed celery would be nice and there was a recipe in the cookbook. For dessert strawberries and cream. So that the meal would be especially nice she wanted salted nuts and olives.

In the store she remembered she would need over so many more things—rolls and butter and coffee. The young man who took the order was helpful. He reminded her to buy eggs, a bottle of milk and fruit for breakfast. The purchases set out on the counter, astounded Cherry. There were so many packages and they were so big.

"I'll carry them out to your car," the clerk offered.

"I'm sorry but I-I haven't a car." "We can send them but we charge ten cents for delivery service."

Cherry nodded. She was counting out money to pay the bill. Three dollars and sixty-five cents. She dug out the last coin from the bottom of her purse and discovered there were only six pennies left.

"I guess I'd better take the things with me," she said hesitantly.

The obliging clerk crowded the groceries into her arms. Balancing the heavy load girlishly Cherry set off down the street.

She had not gone a dozen yards when the sound of an automobile attracted her attention. Cherry turned to face Max Pearson at the wheel of a black roadster. He had pulled the car to the curb.

"Going to let me give you a lift, aren't you?" Pearson called as he stepped to the pavement. He was smiling.

CHAPTER XVIII

Cherry let Pearson relieve her of the heavy packages. She stepped into the roadster, settling herself with a sigh. "This is awfully kind of you," she said.

Her shoulders ached painfully and she was beginning to realize how tired she was.

"Not at all! Not at all! What in the world have you been doing? Buying out a grocery store?"

She told him about the apartment. "We're going to have our first dinner there to-night. It will be the first meal I've ever cooked. I'm only beginning to learn about housework."

Pearson said he was sure the dinner would be a success. Suddenly with a rush of confidence Cherry found herself telling him all about her trials of the morning. Max Pearson wasn't hard to talk to or frightening, though he had read all those books and knew so much. He seemed really interested in the things she was saying.

"That's where I live," she pointed out the building a few doors ahead. "There on the right. You must come to see us soon. If I weren't such an amateur at cooking I'd ask you to dinner."

"That's a promise I'm going to hold you to. I'd like very much to come." Pearson's dark eyes flashed in a smile. Cherry thought he seemed utterly sincere and was touched. She was grateful a moment later when he insisted on carrying the packages up the stairs for her.

Cherry found the latch, turned her key in it and the door opened.

"The place is a sight," she apologized. "I haven't had time to half finish and things are thrown every way."

Pearson moved the sacks of groceries on a chair. He stood in the middle of the room, hands in his pockets, and looked about. "It's hummink," he said. "I believe you're actually begun to make this room look like yours."

Yes, it's very attractive. He swung about, facing the girl. "You have personality," Pearson said. "Did you know that? Of course you're beautiful, but it's personality that makes you different from everyone else. That's why I like you. Few people have it, you know. They're like so many dry sticks or stones. You're real—yourself. And you're lovely and exciting—and well, I hope we're going to be friends."

Cherry said, "Why, of course, Dan thinks so much of you. He'll want you to come to see us often."

"And you and I will be 'friends'?" The girl's cheeks were tinged with pink. "I hope so," she said.

Almost immediately, rather abruptly, Pearson departed. Cherry was a little puzzled by his manner. He really did seem rather unusual. But he had been friendly and she never could have managed all those packages alone.

There was no time to think more about Max Pearson. Cherry put away her coat and hat and set to work preparing dinner. She got out the cookbook and hunted for instructions for cooking beefsteak. When she had found the place she propped the book open, then decided it was a little early to put the steak on the fire. She unwrapped the other packages. They seemed to fill every available bit of space in the kitchen.

She had bought fresh peas because the grocer had suggested them. They were in a huge sack—two pounds. Cherry dumped the peas on a newspaper because there was no pan large enough to hold them. Armed with a paring knife she set down to remove the pods. She did this laboriously, cutting off the ends of each pod and removing the peas one by one.

The sunlight had disappeared by the time she had finished, and long shadows darkened the room. Cherry straightened her shoulders. Oh, how they ached! Her feet were smarting. All day she had been wearing the only sort of shoes she owned—tiny, thin soled kid pumps with Louis XVI heels. They were not the sort of shoes to wear tramping up and down stairs and working about a kitchen.

She turned back to the cook book to find out how to prepare the potatoes. There were a dozen recipes—potatoes julienne, potatoes au gratin, potato soufflé. Cherry tried them all and decided the easiest way would be to bake them. She read the light oven and wasted half a dozen matches before she succeeded. The potatoes looked rather grimy. Cherry scrubbed them, thrust them into the oven and shut the door.

It was almost 5 o'clock and Dan would be there any time now. The dinner was far from ready. Cherry flushed and nervous, bustled about. She put the peas on to cook, in a pan almost filled with water, dumping in a cup of salt. The steak went on next. She did not know that the skillet should be smoking hot and greased with fat before the meat went in.

In a flurry of anxiety she left the kitchen and began to set the table. There was no table cloth. The dishes had to do on the bare table top, and this was a disappointment to Cherry who had visioned a table with flow-less linen, shimmering crystal and silver—the sort of dinner table to which she had always sat down in her own home. There should have been candles glowing softly and a bowl of flowers.

The odor of burning beef steak suddenly recalled her to the kitchen. Oh, dear, something was wrong!

She caught the iron skillet handle to take it from the flame, then cried out in agony. Her whole hand was scorched. The pain was terrific and tears filled her eyes so that she could scarcely see. Something must be done about the meat! It was burning and the smoke and fumes became worse every moment. Cherry did the only thing she could think of. Groping, half-blinded, she drew a cup of water from the tap and poured it into the skillet. There was an enormous sputtering sound and clouds of steam.

The girl turned on the water tap and held her injured hand under it. How good the cold water felt! The minute she took her hand away the stinging began again.

An unfamiliar sizzling sound caused her to turn back to the stove. The water covering the peas had boiled up and was dripping over one side of the pan.

Cherry choked back an exclamation and pushed the pan from the blaze. That would not do, though. The peas would never cook unless they were over the fire. Perhaps they were done. She fished out one and tasted it. Horrible!

Cautiously Cherry dipped off some of the liquid, placed the dish over the flame and turned it lower. Her burned hand was still painful, but she could not spend more time holding it under the water.

Who would have imagined that cooking could be so difficult! Everything was wrong and everything was to be done at once. She had not even started with the celery. There were the vegetables, the peas, the water and the rolls—horror, what had she done with them?

Meaning involuntarily because her hand was so painful, Cherry began searching for the rolls. It was no use. She must have forgotten to buy them. Forgetful of steam and smoke and the mingled odors of burned beefsteak and vegetables, Cherry snatched a chair. The rolls—the one thing they might have eaten without cooking—were not there.

What was comforting when he arrived and viewed the ruined supper. He made Cherry sit in a big chair with her hand wrapped in an oil bandage. Then he made a trip to the neighborhood delicatessen and returned with rolls and some packages of breakfast food. Dan was persistently cheerful and finally won Cherry from her dark mood.

"Of course you can't learn it all in one night," he told her. "Nobody could. You're going to be one of these days. And right now you're the prettiest!"

"But I'm not cook at all. I spoiled everything I bought and it cost such a lot! Oh, Dan, I'm not the right wife for you at all. I don't know how to do anything!"

He answered convincingly and shortly. They finally ate a meal consisting of bowls of breakfast food heaped with strawberries and covered with cream, celery, cups of steaming strong coffee and cheese.

Afterward they washed the dishes and put them away. It was too late and they were too tired to plan anything else for the evening.

Cherry did not even remember to tell Dan about her meeting with Max Pearson.

The week that followed was the busiest, the most exhausting and the most disappointing Cherry Phillips had ever known. She had much to learn and to unlearn. She found that trying to prepare the sort of meals she would have ordered in a hotel dining-room was a mistake. Simple food and simple recipes were best with the limited facilities of the tiny kitchen.

There were mornings when the milk was sour for breakfast because Cherry had forgotten to order ice. There were evenings when the chops were like rubber, the potatoes underdone and the dessert hopeless. The day Cherry undertook to bake a lemon pie was an experience that eventually was to seem amusing but, when it happened, was burning torture.

A bright spot in the week was the visit Sarah O'Fallon paid the apartment. For one thing, Sarah insisted on taking off her coat and stirring up a batch of muffins. She showed Cherry exactly how to do it. Sarah had practical suggestions galore and all of them proved helpful.

Cherry's housekeeping improved. They had been in the apartment for days when Dan suggested casually, "Mind if I ask Max to come out tomorrow evening?"

Uncle Wiggily And Sammie's Swing

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was running very fast through the woods. The old rabbit gentleman didn't want the Puzzy Fox to catch Sammie Littleall and the little rabbit boy was in danger of being caught.

Sammie had started off to find an adventure all by himself. He had met Uncle Wiggily and told Mr. Longears please not to come with him.

"If you do, my sister Susie will say I'm not as smart as she was, to find an adventure all by myself," said Sammie.

So Uncle Wiggily was going to let Sammie go on by himself until, all of a sudden, the bunny gentleman saw the Fox trailing after Sammie.

"Oh, that must never be!" said Uncle Wiggily, so he ran to save the rabbit boy.

Little Sally Eilers Does Her Own Stuff

By ROBERT GRANDON

Saw Little Sally Eilers swinging along Hollywood Boulevard as if she'd never a care in the world. . . and I hope she hasn't, despite all the difficulties which have arisen between herself and husband, Hoot Gibson. . .

Sally got her first role when Mack Bennett called upon her to play a role vacated when Alice Day walked out. She had her first screen test through Anita Stewart and it was so awful she went back to school and decided to become a stenographer. . .

There was a time when she was known as "the legs of the Fox lot." . . as you may or may not have noticed. . . and when a fine pair were needed for a closeup, she was called in. Her legs have represented practically every Fox feminine star of recent years.

She's a neat little trick with a perfect face, slightly freckled and a form which, despite its slightness, is so perfect that Ziegfeld wanted to glorify her. . . Starting with Bennett, she left him when he insisted on keeping her in short releases. . . She was engaged to Matty Kemp, William Hawke, Eddie Sutherland and finally married

Hoot Gibson after playing leads in his westerns.

It was when she played ingenue in "Quick Millions" that Fox recognized her ability. . . then came "Bad Girl" . . . and it seemed that Sally was established in her own right. . . At any rate, what with this and with that, she's doing very nicely in the films, thank you.

She doesn't look her twenty-one years. . . like jewelry and tailored clothes, which she wears to perfection. . . and delights in practical jokes. . . She is very superstitious, and is forever consulting fortune-tellers, tea-leaf readers, crystal gazers and the like. . . Though somewhat shy, she finds delight in gatherings, where she is content to remain in the background and be an observer. . . in fact, she's just the opposite from all that "Bad Girl" implies.

BABE'S BODY FOUND

Minneapolis, Minn., July 15.—The body of twenty-months-old Leslie DeLand, for whom neighbors and 125 national guardsmen had hunted nearly a week, was found yesterday in an underground sewage catch basin, near his home in suburban Columbia Heights. How the boy met death remained undetermined. Police investigated the possibility of murder.

"MIND YOUR KNITTING"

Home knitting is "in" again!

All over the country knitting needles are twisting and crocheting hooks are flashing as mother teaches daughter the almost neglected art.

Right in line with the vogue The Victoria Daily Times begins a series of articles on "Mind Your Knitting"—complete, simple directions for making chic articles for your wardrobe and attractive things-about-the-house.

The author is "Claire," noted expert on hand-knit fashions. The first article, telling how to hand-knit a Pancake Beret, will be found on page of interest to women in Saturday's Magazine Section.

SPECTACLE OF FREEDOM HERE

"Fires of Freedom" to Be Presented By City Temple Early Next Month.

The dramatic spectacle, "Fires of Freedom," which will be presented at the Willows August 4, 5 and 6 by the Victoria City Temple, promises to be one of the most unique programmes ever presented in this city. The pursuit of freedom is not the monopoly of any nation, the spectacle will help to show. All down the ages the struggle has gone on, sometimes flaring up in spasms of fierce contest.

The programme will be a combination of music, singing, dancing, tableaux and immense fireworks pictures. The struggle for freedom will commence from the time of the Roman Empire and will show various phases of history, culminating in the struggle between China and Japan in the Far East.

Such incidents as Queen Boadicea, the storming of the Bastille, the Covenanters, the Mayflower and Wolfe at Quebec will be vividly portrayed in tableaux or in fireworks.

Citizens of Victoria will represent the living characters in the story and the fireworks pictures will be designed by the Hitt Fireworks Company.

ONE DOZEN ASSORTED BABIES—ACQUIRING SUNNY DISPOSITIONS WHILE THEIR MOTHERS WORK

There's a place in the sun for the babies these days. Infant coats of sun-tan are getting to be the style. Working mothers go gaily off to their tasks, leaving their babies in the care of a beach sanitarium. And the youngsters themselves face the sun without any qualms over blisters and freckles, and have a much better time than they would if they stayed at home. They are given the right sort of nourishment and they have plenty of company of their own age at the community sandpile by the ocean.

ARE REPULSED

Four Insurgents Killed in Brush With Federal Troops
on Sao Paulo Border

Rio de Janeiro, July 15 (Associated Press).—Four rebels were wounded in the first brush of arms between the loyal federal troops of President Getulio Vargas and the rebel forces on the Sao Paulo border to-day. The rebels retreated.

The vanguard of the Third Infantry under Capt. Zebio Costa clashed at Itatiba with a small force of rebels, and both sides opened fire.

When the rebels withdrew they left the four wounded comrades behind them. They were taken prisoners.

A concerted attempt was made to persuade the rebels to give up the rebellion. Planes were sent over Sao Paulo to drop leaflets to that effect.

FLORENZ ZIEGFELD

Hollywood, July 15.—Florenz Ziegfeld, musical comedy producer, is ill in a New Mexico sanitarium, and is constantly under care of a physician, it was disclosed yesterday by his wife, Billie Burke, now playing in a picture at Radio studio.

While her husband is not in any immediate danger, she said, his illness is in the nature of a breakdown after a strenuous theatrical season and a pneumonia attack several months ago.

EMPIRE SHOWS
PARIS STORY

When the art directors re-created large portions of the French capital at Movietone City for the filming of "While Paris Sleeps," Fox melodrama of the Paris underworld, now showing at Empire Theatre, they seemed to follow the adage, "See Paris and die!"

Under the skillful guidance of William Worthington created one whole city block carefully modelled after an original in Montmartre. It contained a busy street, lined with shops, restaurants, stores, an open-air market and a Bal, or dance hall.

It is around the Bal that much of the tender romance which motivates the picture is enacted. Victor McLaglen, featured as the father who escapes from prison to come to the aid of his motherless daughter, finds Helen Mack, as the daughter, working for an apache gang in the evil environment of the Bal.

DOMINION THEATRE

Sound films have played many queer pranks on screen players. Some had to raise their voices, others to lower them. Whistling noises had to be checked from the backstage. Clanging bracelets were silenced. But the oddest consequence of facing the microphone is chalked up to Erich Von Stroheim and his favorite habit of clicking his heels together smartly in Prussian militaristic custom.

Playing in "As You Desire Me" with Greta Garbo, the German actor-director drew complaints from the sound technicians who said the heel-clicking mannerism ruined recording of dialogue.

Eventually the problem was solved. Von Stroheim's heels being removed from his shoes and carefully insulated with layers of felt which successfully killed the noise when he brought them together.

"As You Desire Me," which is at the Dominion Theatre, is the film version of the famous Pirandello play. Melvyn Douglas plays opposite Miss Garbo and prominent roles are filled by Owen Moore and Hedda Hopper.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Charles Farrell illustrates a method of curing a sentimental mother in "After To-morrow" as amusing as it is unique. He finds her a suitor, and promotes the courtship. Marion Nixon is co-featured opposite Farrell in this realistic Fox picturization of young love beset with the obstacle of parental objection to their marriage.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

A bruised fist and a moment of embarrassment were the net results of Robert Armstrong's attempt at punching the bag. The actor, who supports Fanny Brice in the United Artists all-dialogue musical production, "Be Yourself," showing at the Playhouse Theatre, was actively engaged in pounding the air-filled bag when his fist slipped and went through the wall of the set.

Luckily for Armstrong, the wall was made of light material.

Thornton Freeland, who directed the scene, regretted the fact that this particular episode could not be filmed in a comedy sense. The wall was repaired and the scene renewed.

Gertrude Astor, Harry Green, G. Pat Collins, Budd Pine and Jimmy Tolson play important roles.

CAPITOL THEATRE

To add forty years to one's age in forty minutes is a feat seldom performed, but Barbara Stanwyck did it several times during the filming of "So Big," her new Warner Brothers' starring picture now at the Capitol Theatre.

In the early scenes of the picture Miss Stanwyck, in the role of Selina Peake, heroine of Edna Ferber's celebrated novel, appears as a young girl; but the story carries Selina on to maturity and to the verge of old age, and Barbara was artfully "made up" for these last sections of the film by Percy Westmore, chief expert in such matters at the Warner Brothers' studios. "Very few actresses of 30-day would be willing to make up as a woman of advancing years," said Westmore in discussing his transformation of the radiant Barbara. "Most of our young actresses know that nine-tenths of their public appeal is due to their youthful looks. But Barbara didn't worry about that. She didn't have to. She is a real actress, and I believe we are only watching the beginning of one of the greatest careers that the stage and screen has ever known."

CHICAGO HOTELS ARE BADLY OFF

Only two hotels in the "Loop," Chicago's big business area, are not in receivership now, said Mrs. M. Vignes, who is supervising director of seven hotels and apartments in the residential sections of the Windy City, when interviewed this morning at the Empire Hotel.
These two are the Palmer House and the Congress, according to Mrs. Vignes.
Every other big hotel has been struck by the adverse conditions that prevail in the hotel business now.

GYRO LEADER VISITOR HERE

Robert B. Abel, Tacoma, president of the International Association of Gyro Clubs, is paying an official visit to Victoria to-day to confer with local

During the afternoon he was in conference with directors, headed by John L. Clay, president of the local club, at the Empire Hotel.
Arrangements have been made to have local Gyros meet the international leader at the hotel this evening.
During the conference this afternoon
Mrs. Abel was entertained by Mrs. Dick Lipsy, wife of the local club's vice-president.

From Victoria, Mr. Abel will proceed up-land to visit the Nanaimo club, before crossing over to the Mainland to visit in Vancouver.

Captain G. E. Walls Wins Victoria Cup With Two Possibles At Heals Range

Local Marksman Gets Perfect
Score to Win Victoria Corporation Match

Royal Air Force Team Wins
Lieut.-Governor's Team
Match; Scottish Second

By Times Special Representative

Heals Range, July 15.—Scoring two possibles on the 300 and 800-yard ranges for a grand total of 70, Captain G. E. Walls,
P.C.C.L.I., and a member of the Garrison Rifle Association, captured the Victoria Corporation Match this morning and takes possession of the handsome cup presented by the city of Victoria for one year.

Capt. Walls put on fourteen bulls with some brilliant shooting and aged to retain the lead he had gained on the first stage on the 300-yard range.

Yesterday Sgt. A. E. Ashe, Canadian
Scottish; Master Gunner H. Collings, Garrison, and Capt. Walls all scored possibles. Collings slipped badly in the third stage when he scored a magpie shot on his first shot on the 300-yard range, making two bulls on his sighting shot.
He also made inners on his fourth and fifth shots for a total of 31 at the 800 and an aggregate of 66 for the round.

The chances are that Collings will not get in the money for the first time since the meet commenced Tuesday.
Sgt. Ashe, the other member of the team to pick up a possible on the 300 yesterday, lost a valuable point on his second shot at the long range when he put on an inner for a total of 34, just one point behind Captain Walls.

Sgt. J. H. Regan, another local rifleman, came within one point of taking first place, scoring a possible 35 on the 300 and a 34 on the 800 for a grand total of 69.

Corporal H. L. Taylor, Royal Canadian Air Force, turned in a fine card of 69, scoring a possible on the 800-yard range this morning. Cpl. L. C.
Willoughby of the Seaford Highlanders of Canada also scored a possible this morning for a 69, as did Lieut. Over, Irish Fusiliers, Vancouver.

The Royal Canadian Air Force team that has been shooting very consistently throughout the meet, added another fine victory to its growing record by defeating the Lieut.-Governor's team match that was fired concurrently with the Lieut.-Governor's match yesterday afternoon. The lads from Jericho Beach ran up a total of 70 points to lead their closest rivals,
the Canadian Scottish Regiment, Victoria, by four points. The Seaford Highlanders captured third place with 70 and the Esquimalt Garrison fourth place with 75.

CARLETON W. STOCKER
JAMES RIDOUT
JOHN MERRETT

CARLETON W. STOCKER

Mr. Stocker was born in Boston,
Mass., but is a full-fledged Canadian,
having taken out his citizenship papers shortly after arriving in Victoria in 1911. He owns and operates Stocker's
Transfer. He is well known in business and fraternal circles, being regent of the Majestic Council, Royal Arcanum; president of the Oak Bay
Liberal Association, and for a number of years was secretary of the Kiwanis Club. Mr. Stocker has written and produced several minstrel shows here.
He is married and lives at 645 Radcliffe Lane, Oak Bay.

Congratulations are being received to-day by John Merrett, Cedar Hill Crossroads.

James Ridout, Mackenzie Street, was born in Newfoundland sixty-nine years ago, and engaged in the fish business there until he came to Victoria to make his home, twenty-six years ago.
Since his arrival here he has been contacted with the Melrose Co. as a salesman. His hobby is to relate fish and "fishy" stories of his experiences in Newfoundland.

TO-DAY AND TO-morrow Canada's greatest athletes are gathered at Hamilton for the Canadian track and field championships and the Olympic trials. To-day most of the heats are being run off, while the finals will be held to-morrow, and the meet is expected to be the most successful ever staged. The entry list reveals the fact that many of the older stars, those who represented Canada at the Amsterdam Games in 1928, are still very much in the picture and will doubtless figure prominently in the final results.

The trials to-day and to-morrow may not prove very much in the way of bringing to light any world beaters, but it will be when the little band of Canadians meet in actual competition against the stars of other countries that we can look for surprises. Nobody figured that Percy Williams, of Jimmy Ball had more than an outside chance at Amsterdam, yet these two athletes were supreme in Olympic competition. The 100 metres, blue ribbon event of the trials, has lost considerable of its attraction through the fact that Percy Williams, Vancouver ace, will not be competing. Williams has been selected for the team without the added strain of his having to travel to Hamilton.

The next important event will be the 400 metres, which will see such stars as Jimmy Ball, Winnipeg, member of Canada's 1928 squad; Stan Oliver, Edmonton; Ray Lewis, Hamilton; and Scott and Laurion, Winnipeg; Phil Edwards, now of Hamilton, and the favorite, Alex. Wilson, Montreal, contending for the honors. Wilson won the event at the Empire Games in 1930. In the 800 metres the race will likely be run between Edwards and Freddy Shaver of the Hamilton Collieries, record-holding relay team. This pair of course, may be surprised by Hughes, Montreal; and Lovett, Toronto. Wilson, who has been receiving the benefit of expert coaching at Notre Dame University, may also run in the 800 metres.

The Walter brothers, Jack and Pete, have been outstanding in Canada in the 1,500 metres and mile events. They hail from Littleton, Ontario, but have been attending Marquette University in the United States and the coaching received there should add materially to the time of course. The alma mater of Ralph Metcalfe, the sensational colored sprinter of the United States, Jack Walter holds the present Canadian record of four minutes for the 1,500 metres, another young Hamilton runner, is expected to supply the opposition.

In the 5,000-metre event two athletes outline the field in Bob "Scotty" Rankine, Preston, Ont., and Longman, Toronto. Many fancy Longman, because they feel that Rankine should stick to the 10,000 metres, the race he ran so well at the Ontario meet. Longman had little difficulty in lowering the Canadian records at that meet, and should be able to repeat the performance. But there are others to be considered in Bill Purvis, Toronto; Sargeant, Galt, and Hornby and Ball, Hamilton.

In the 10,000 metres, Rankine is likely to confine himself to the shorter distance, Vic Callard, Toronto, shapes up as the man to beat. Callard, however, will face stiff opposition in Bill Metcalfe, Toronto, winner of the Buffalo ten-mile race recently.

In the field events, Canada, as usual, does not appear as strong as in the track.

Doral Pilling, the Alberta javelin thrower, will not be able to attend the games, but will likely be a member of the team at the Olympic trials. He now is. He appears to be the only one on the Canadian horizon who has Olympic possibilities in the javelin throw, although Zvonkin, Hamilton, may surprise. The latter, however, is better at the discus and shot put, along with "Tiny" Herman, Nova Scotia, and George Sutherland, another Alberta star.

In the high jumps, Jack Portland, youngster from Collingwood, seems to be the outstanding performer, although Donald MacNaughton, Vancouver, has been showing splendid ability. Vic Pickard, Hamilton, will likely try a comeback in the pole vault, opposed by Stoddard of Goderich.

In the hurdles, Art Ravensdale, Coburg, seems to be things pretty much his own way.

The 3,000 metres steepchase is more of an open event. Reid, Toronto, the defending champion, will not compete. Art Keay, who won the trial in 1928, will be back again and is in good form. Griffen, Hamilton and Longman, Toronto, are other outstanding competitors.

Outside of the sprints, the 400 and 800 metre events, perhaps one of the longer runs and the javelin throw, it is unlikely that any of the Olympic standards will be reached.

But that must not be taken as pessimism, since Canadian athletes seem to do better in competition than they do in running for records.

TWO LEEMING SISTERS WIN

Advance to Semi-finals of Women's Singles in Eastern Tennis Championships

Walter Martin, Regina, Presided to Limit to Defeat Commander Edwards

Toronto, July 15.—With good tennis weather prevailing, rapid progress was made yesterday in the eastern Canadian tennis championships being played here. Finals in two junior events, and semi-finals in men's and women's singles and doubles were reached, and two rounds of mixed doubles were run off.

Montreal has two representatives in the men's singles and semi-finals to-day, the starry Marcel Rainville and Roland Longtin, while the other two to round out the quartette are Gilbert Nunn, Toronto, and Walter Martin, Regina.

Rainville, hard-driving Davis cupper, has perhaps the easiest time, winning in straight sets in J. Grant McLean, Toronto, 6-2, 6-2. Martin had to be right on his game to defeat Commander J. L. C. Edwards, Ottawa naval officer. Only Martin's hard hitting in the pinches gave him an edge.

Up until noon today $105 had been secured and any citizen wishing to contribute to the fund can do so at either The Times or The Colonist offices.

ROSENBLUM IN CLOSE VICTORY

Forced to Call on All His Reserve to Survive Final Rally of Lou Scozza

Buffalo, N.Y., July 15.—Maxie Rosenbloom, recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission as world light-heavyweight champion, outpointed Lou Scozza, Buffalo, in a fifteen-round bout here yesterday evening. Rosenbloom weighed 175 pounds, the class limit; Scozza 172.

Maxie needed all his fight experience to win the judges' decision after the Buffalo boy came back strong in the fourth round and pummeled Scozza from post to post.

Maxie pulled up points in the first half of the battle, cuffing and slapping when Scozza concentrated on a body attack, but Maxie's long left hand was too much for him in the early rounds.

In the eighth Maxie opened a cut beside Scozza's left eye and peeked at it until the eleventh, when Scozza managed to get inside and carry the fight to the champion. From the eleventh on, Maxie was in trouble and a crowd of 10,000 persons stood and roared for the local boy to score a knockout. Maxie called on all his ring experience, however, and weathered the flurry of blows which Scozza rained in the last round.

In the fourth round Rosenbloom knocked Scozza to the canvas with a hard right. It took Scozza four rounds to recover and by the time Maxie had piled up a lead. Coming back strong, Scozza plugged away in the thirteenth and floored Maxie for a count of nine. The rally was too late, however, and his winning the last three was not sufficient to give him the bout.

Shores Outclass Thistles To Win Provincial Final

Mainland Footballers Turn Back Saanich Eleven 4 to 1 in Deciding Match of B.C. Connaught Cup Play-downs; North Shore Will Meet Edmonton Tomorrow and Monday in Opening Provincial Play-offs; Shores Led 2 to 1 at Half-time; Art Chapman Scores Lone Counter for Locals

Adopting a short passing game that completely baffled their opponents, North Shore United defeated the Saanich Thistles 4 to 1 at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday evening in the British Columbia final of the Connaught Cup football play-downs. The Shores by their victory earned the right to meet Edmonton Canadian Legion in Vancouver to-morrow and Monday in the provincial play-downs, the winner to travel to Winnipeg. The match drew a large attendance but was a disappointment as the Saanich club was outclassed by the visiting redshirts.

The Shores proved a team of high-class footballers and their snappy passing soon had the Thistles running around in circles, with the result that the locals became disorganized. The back division of the Saanich club appeared to be off color, as the visiting forwards were through time after time and it was only the fine work of Bridges, Saanich goalie in the second half, that kept the score down. Bridges played well except for one lapse, when he misjudged to give North Shore the ball over the bar from the rebound. Morgan centred nicely from the flag into the goal. Speller received the ball and tried a first time that was wide. North Shore returned play, but were pulled up when Reid Viggers for charging landed a hard kick clearing Hannah's job into the goal mouth. Morgan drove in another fine centre that Burns attempted to hook into the goal, but the rebound cleared the bar and the Thistles cleared the goal.

At the other end Bridges made a great save of McNicholl's drive from twenty yards out, and Thom booted the ball over the bar from the rebound. THISTLES IN LEAD

Fourteen minutes after the start the Thistles went into the lead. Art Chapman accepting a pass from Burns to drive a low shot past Lindsey. The Thistles continued to dominate, but threw too many men on the field and North Shore broke fast to tie the score. Lanyon streaking down right wing and hitting the ball into the goal. Todd booted the ball into the net after Bridges had failed to clear properly after coming out of his net. A few minutes later Lindsey picked off Art Chapman's drive for the lead.

North Shore went into the lead on Lindsey's goal after twenty-five minutes. Securing the ball near mid-field the Shores were broken away by himself, cut into centre, and after beating Easler pulled Bridges out of his net and drove the ball into the empty goal. Shortly after the Shores scored a grand opportunity to tie the score when Burns was through himself, but worked over too far on the right wing and his weak shot was saved by Lindsey. Burns had another fine scoring opportunity just before half time when he missed a centre from Williams with his head in the goal. The interval found Shores still clinging to their one-goal advantage.

SHORES DOMINATE

Play in the second half favored the visitors, and no one did the Thistles look like scoring. Twenty minutes after the resumption North Shore made it 3 to 1. Lanyon scored easily when he picked Arthur up in an airship spin and kicked the ball into the goal. The interval found Shores still clinging to their one-goal advantage.

McMillan refereed. The teams followed: North Shore—Lindsay, Hannah, Garrioch, Bunn, Hunter, Thom; Lanyon, Reid, McNicholl, Todd and Speller; Saanich Thistles—Bridges, Harper, Easler, R. Williams, Viggers, Speller, H. Williams, C. Chapman, Burns, A. Chapman and Morgan.

McLARNIN OFF FOR N.Y. BOUT

Crack Vancouver Welterweight, Who Battles Brouillard August 4, Here To-day

On his way to New York to fight Lou Brouillard, Boston welterweight, over the ten-round bout, Jimmy McLarnin, crack Vancouver pugilist, was a guest at the Empress Hotel this morning. Jimmy left for Seattle this afternoon and will check out from the Sound City to-morrow night to be in New York in good time for the bout August 4.

The Vancouver pride told of plans to match himself with Benny Leonard, the old master, if the bout with Brouillard comes out successfully. Leonard, who is in the course of a comeback, has first to try conclusions with Billy Townsend, also of Vancouver, probably July 28, in order to prove he is still tough enough to take on a man like McLarnin.

KNOCKOUT LOOP FINAL BILLED

On Sunday George Austin will take a special train to Duncan for a friendly fixture against the up-landers.

DIVERS HERE FOR BIG MEET

Edmonton and Vancouver Springboard Aces Working Out in City Now

Visitors Showing Exceptionally Good Form on Difficult Dives

Canadian divers are arriving in the city each day to work on the Crystal Garden board in preparation for the Dominion three-metre men's and women's championships and Olympic trial events on Monday evening.

Early in the week Vancouver swimmers started training. Molly Edwards, British Columbia champion; Doris Parks, a former titleholder, and Eddie Hornby, B.C. outdoor champion in the men's section, were hitting the plank in very fair shape, wearing on their difficulty dives.

Yesterday Don Thom, Edmonton, Alberta champion for four years in a row, and Beth Drenthridge of the same city, women's champion of that province for an equal time, started their training at the local pool. Both looked exceptionally good, diving against Victoria competitors.

ALBERTA CHAMPION

Thom, appearing on the Coast for the first time, is far above the standard of the prairie. He has plenty of height, good body control and a very fair repertoire of dives. He expected he will be using a two and one-half front, lay-out, one and one-half back and cut-away one and one-half back, and a cut-away one and one-half front, half gainer, one and one-half front somersault and a jack with a half-twist among his list.

Both Miss Parks and Miss Edwards, Vancouver, have shown outstanding form in some of the more difficult dives, while Louisa Carson, Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, probably the only local entry in the event, has been improving with consistent work-outs.

In the men's division young "Jake" Stokes and Art Stott, Victoria, have been practising regularly.

TORONTO ENTRIES EXPECTED SUNDAY

Toronto's big guns, Alf Phillips and Doris Galtie, both world class divers, very superior standard, will not reach the city until Sunday, it is understood.

Pearl Stoneham, Quebec, is also expected to turn up over the week-end. Agnes Martin, flashy Vancouver freestyle swimmer, is also taking the bounce on the local board. She has mastered both the provincial and cut-back, and Jack with a half-twist, and will add outside interest to the meet.

The diving committee in charge of the judging this year has drawn up a special system for awarding points on the F.I.N.A. rulings. The method will be the most efficient ever used in the city and will ensure accuracy throughout the competition.

Judging from all indications the men's and women's diving, the longest events on the programme, will be the best of their kind ever staged here.

NEWARK WINS DOUBLE BILL

Five and a half games in front now, Al Mamana's Newark Bears are threatening to make a runaway of the International League race. The Bears proved they could win on the road. On the current trip into the north so far they have won eight games out of nine.

U.S. Players Dominate B.C. Tennis Championships

Don, Mary Campbell Only B.C. Players In Singles Events

U.S. Representatives Completely Dominate Provincial Championships at Victoria Lawn Tennis Club; Murio and Dranga Clash in Feature Match To-day; Latter Given Hard Battle by Noel Radford; Gordon and McCallum and Campbell and Radford in Men's Doubles Quarter-finals

In spite of an uncertain surface, the grass courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club were holding up remarkably well yesterday after the intermittent rains of the last few days, and some of the best matches of the British Columbia Lawn Tennis Championships to date were contested under reasonably good conditions.

To-day a special effort was being made to bring the tournament down to the finals.

By coming back strongly to defeat Dunc Williams, Vancouver, ranking British Columbia player, Don Campbell, city clay court champion, secured the honor of being the only provincial entrant to remain in men's singles play to-day. Campbell was playing Hank Prusoff, Hercules, Seattle, for the right to battle the winner of the Cyril Robbs-Don Budge game in the semi-final later in the day.

Campbell beat Williams, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1, in a number one court game early in the afternoon. Williams played neatly to win the first set, beating Don at his own game of steady back court play, but it is fast becoming an adage that it is hard to outplay the local star, and Williams found this out as Don slowly wore him down for a fine victory.

John Murio, masterly Hawaiian ace, advanced to the semi-finals by a morning victory over Bud Hocking, 6-3, 6-2, and an afternoon victory over Eric Loney, 6-0, 6-4, while sixteen-year-old Budge played beautifully to down Mark Gordon, 6-1, 6-1, in an early encounter. Murio was playing well Dranga to-day in a semi-final.

Dranga was given plenty to worry about in his late quarter-final with Hocking for the right to meet Ray Casey and Prusoff in the semi-finals later in the day. The other all-Victoria pair in Campbell and Radford, who are battling Murio and Shimura for the right to play a semi-final at 6 o'clock with Budge and Dranga.

Robbs and Hocking beat Dunc Williams and Perry Swartz, Californians, 6-3, 10-8, in a match that produced a number of thrills. Murio and Shimura, San Franciscans, downed Kinney and Raymond, 6-2, 6-4, in a first court match.

Don and Mary Campbell, who were fancied by many to take the mixed doubles crown, went out before the line playing of Dunc Williams and Theodosia Smith, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5, in a surprise. Hocking and Helen Campbell took the middle set off Casey and Miss Swartz, but lost out, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, in another fine mixed doubles. Mrs. Phillips and Noel Radford advanced two rounds by the straight-set route and are the only local pair left.

Mary Campbell and Helen Taitlow Wilson are carrying Victoria's colors in the women's doubles and look a strong combination against all comers.

Matches were also played yesterday in the consolation events, while to-day will see a veterans' doubles between Garrett and Ryall and Merston and

SONS AND ELKS MEET TO-NIGHT

Providing the weather man behaves himself the Sons of Canada and Elks will meet to-night at the Royal Athletic Park in a Senior Amateur Baseball League game at 6:15 o'clock. Lloyd Cann is expected to twirl for the Sons, while the starting pitcher for the Elks is a mystery. A win for the Sons will put them in undisputed possession of first place.

Bradman only made 45 runs, being brilliantly caught by Cornelius after giving three chances during his brief stay at the wicket, which included eight fours.

Victor Richardson made a score of 86 with nine crashing drives to the boundary, but McCabe put together the highest innings, which included ten fours and two drives out of the ground.

New York made a good start to get 72 runs for three wickets, but Fleetwood-Smith was put on and soon dismissed the West Indians with the analysis of seven wickets for 31.

Russia Offers Wheat, German Harvest Starts, But Winnipeg Is Firmer

Winnipeg, July 15 (Canadian Press).—Encouraged by higher quotations at Liverpool and a fair amount of purchasing from southern interests, the wheat market executed an about-face to record fractional gains to-day. Prices at the close were 1/4 to 1/2 higher for the day. July gained 1/4 to 5/8, October and December each 1/4 to 5/8, respectively.

Only a light export trade worked overnight could be traced. No estimate was available.

Broomhall stated Russia is willing to offer wheat for August and September shipment. Germany has made some sales to Rotterdam, Antwerp and the east coast of Britain.

Harvest has started in Germany where the crop is estimated to be sufficient for home requirements. Some wheat will be exported and replaced by hard wheat from abroad.

Shipments of wheat from the Argentine have fallen off considerably during the past ten days. Export movement this week totaled only 450,000 bushels. The contraction in these exports has accounted for the firmer tone displayed at Liverpool.

Cash wheat and coarse grain trade was quiet, with wheat inclined higher in sympathy with wheat.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan).—Wheat—There was very little going on in the wheat market again to-day, trade being small and featureless. Prices held within a narrow range, being unchanged to 1/4 higher. Offerings were fair at the start, but the slack was taken out of the local pit with a little buying by seaboard houses and similar buying that has been seen recently, which is credited to a big local interest.

After the first fifteen minutes offerings dried up, practically speaking, and the market turned dull and uninteresting. There was a little spreading business going on buying Winnipeg December against sales of Chicago. December by Chicago interest. This was quite probably taking off a spread which was put on when it was thought that Chicago market would soar over Winnipeg, due to the small winter wheat crops, but which turned out to be very unprofitable. The amount of export sales overnight and this morning were not available, but the total business was not large, possibly 350,000 bushels.

The local cash market was also quiet with only small lots changing hands and spreads were mostly unchanged. There was a little shipping demand for hard and the spreads on this grade were 1/4 better. Mills continue to report a very small demand for flour, there being nothing doing in exports. Country marketings in the west on Thursday were 231,000, or 257,000 bushels a year ago. Liverpool closed unchanged to 1/4 lower and Buenos Aires was 1/4 to 1/2 higher at noon.

Winnipeg futures closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

Coarse grains—These markets were dull and featureless, with nothing doing in export circles. Offerings were very light and prices held steady to firm.

Cash closed unchanged. Barley unchanged to 1/4 higher. Rye 1/4 higher to unchanged. Flax firmer, but there was very little demand from any quarter. Flax in the northwestern states reported damaged from different causes. Liverpool due 1/4 to 1/2 higher on Winnipeg.

Good Hard, Horse Sense Is the Outstanding Contribution of This Era to Human Happiness—No Longer Do We Allow Our Emotions to Outweigh Our Reason in Hunting a Solution of Our Problems

WHATEVER other criticism may be brought against this present era, it must be given credit for its good, hard horse sense and the practical way in which it faces life. Indeed, I think it will go down in history as the beginning of the Age of Reason," said a woman to me the other day.

"We talk about the marvelous discoveries that have been made in this age, of the wonders of wireless telegraphy and the radio and the airplane and the phonograph and sending pictures over a wire and so on. But they are not half as important a contribution to human happiness as the discovery that we can apply a little gumption to the solution of our problems and reduce the sum of human misery by half.

As an example of this, take this letter which I have just received. It is from a girl of 18, who is at college, and who tells me that her widowed mother is about to marry again. Now when I was a girl about the same age that very same thing happened to me, and I had hysterics all over the place, and just about broke my own and my mother's heart.

"I can still remember my idiotic ravings about my mother dishonoring my poor, dear, dead father's memory, and about her letting a stranger come between her and her children, and about her forgetting her duty toward her children, and the nightmare that I conjured up of a cruel stepfather who would spend his life torturing the poor little victims who would fall into his hands.

"Fortunately my mother had enough sense and courage not to pay any attention to my diatribes. She went on and married a very fine gentleman who made her very happy and was a real father to her children and of whom we became very fond.

"But there were years of jealousy and bitterness in which we children suffered, and made our mother and our stepfather suffer, and that left behind memories that will never be obliterated. However, that was the attitude that half-grown children always took in those days toward the remarriage of a father or mother. They got all the misery they could out of the stepfather or stepmother situation.

"Compare that with the commonsense way children look at the matter to-day. This girl, who writes me that her mother is going to marry, expresses her own and her sister's and brother's delight. She says that her mother is still young and has many years of life before her, and that she needs companionship and her own home and her own interests in life.

"We children have practically left home now, says this girl. 'We are off at school and as soon as we have graduated from college we will be going about our careers or getting married, and we don't want mother to be lonely, so we are very glad that she has found somebody who will be a congenial companion to her. We like Mr. A. Very much and feel sure that we will be the very best of friends.'

"And that's that. No buckets of tears. No tragedy stuff. Modern children want to lead their own lives and are willing to grant mother the same privilege. Children realize that they will be freer and mother will be happier if she marries again, so, bless you, mother dear, and everybody happy and satisfied and the episode closed.

"And consider the difference between being poor now and being poor in the past. Think how we used to pity a poor girl, and well we might when all she could do was sit at home and envy those better off than herself. It wasn't respectable for her to work and earn money and all she could do was to eat her heart out in bitterness or marry anything in the shape of a man that came along.

"But the poor girl now, in this commonsense age which teaches if you want a thing to go out and get it, gets her a job and buys all the pretty clothes she wants. And as she works among men she has twice as many dates and ten times the chance to make a good marriage that the rich girl has.

"And look how common sense is solving the problem that has caused more misery and heartburnings than anything else in the world, that of uncongenial people being forced to live together. Now among enlightened people they simply don't do it. Mothers are getting enough sense not to try to live and fight with their in-laws. Even children and parents are not always harmonious, and self-supporting daughters are setting up their own establishments when they find that they can't stand mother's nagging and bossing any more.

"It used to be that people who stood in a certain relationship toward each other felt that they had to live together, no matter how much they hated each other, but now they go their separate ways and discover that there is nothing like distance to promote family affection.

"Yes, my dear, this is the Age of Reason, and the most wonderful thing in it is the discovery that you can solve almost any problem by the use of a little gumption. So efficacious is this that I am hoping that some time we will use a little commonsense in dealing with the great mystery of how to make marriage a success."

Masters of Music

Y-PADEREWSKI

It was the Czar of Russia speaking, the lord of one of the large empires of the earth; and he was talking to a noted pianist.

"His Imperial Majesty," said the Czar, "is pleased that the world's greatest musician is a Russian."

Paderewski, at the age of thirty

"His Imperial Majesty is mistaken," replied the pianist. "I am a Pole."

Thus did Ignace Paderewski answer the powerful ruler. He had not forgotten that when he was three years old the Czar had sent his father to Siberia.

Before the World War, Poland was under the power of Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary. After the war it became a republic.

When he was a very little boy, Paderewski began to finger the keys of a piano. At the age of six, he started to take music lessons. His family was poor. While he was attending school, he and one of his chums had just one good suit between them.

When he was twelve years old, Ignace started to study at the Warsaw Conservatory. There were days when he had but a single meal; but his music meant much to him, and helped him to forget his hunger. His ability to play the piano won him a position as teacher in the Conservatory while he was still in his teens.

In 1889, when he was twenty-eight, he gave a concert in Paris. Those who heard him called him a genius. "A new Chopin has arisen," they declared, referring to the Polish-French composer who had won a place among the Masters of Music.

Three years later, Paderewski made a tour of the United States, giving concerts in many cities, and adding to his fame.

Paderewski composed a minuet for the piano, and it became famous; but his greatest honors came from his ability to play. He proved that he could make the piano do almost anything but talk.

In 1919, Paderewski became Premier of the newly-formed Republic of Poland. He held office for not quite one year, then crossed the Atlantic to live in the United States—on an estate he had purchased in California.

In 1920 he started on a concert tour through the United States. He was then seventy years old. In 1931 he returned to Poland.

Horoscope

SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1932

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day in planetary direction. Males aspects are strong, especially in the early morning. There is a rather a threatening sign for women, who should exercise self control and escape irritability.

Under this way visitors at country homes may be more or less difficult to entertain and hospitality may be attended by various anxieties. It is foretold.

This is not an auspicious rule for the summertime romance. Men may be exceedingly critical of women while this configuration prevails.

Workers in various vocations are well directed under this planetary government. In factories as well as among the farms there should be plenty of activity that is fairly remunerative.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of much pleasure, although love affairs may cause privations.

Real estate operators may take heart at this time, when there will be a tendency to

SKY-ROADS

Invest in homes. Full payments rather than the installment plan will be popular, it is predicted.

Taxes now will be much discussed, but accepted with more or less philosophy as men and women begin to realize the importance of systematic spending.

The stars at this time seem to encourage orderly and careful routines in the life plan of the average person. Although the planets begin to smile, extravagance will be less prevalent.

This is not an auspicious day for the signing of leases or contracts. The judgment may be good under the kindly influence of Neptune, but it is wise to delay decisions.

This is read as an unusually favorable day for beginning an ocean voyage. Journeys are well directed and promise much pleasure.

Those who read the stars declare that France, under the influence of Saturn, Pluto and Uranus, is to have a period of serious problems and economic difficulties.

Children born on this day probably will be filled with the joy of life and inclined to desire all the good things of the earth.

Many subjects of this sign emerge from material to spiritual aspirations.

Sir Joshua Reynolds, famous painter, was born on this day, 1723. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Captain Roald Amundsen, 1872, Arctic explorer.

Sure Conference Will Place Empire To Fore

New Zealand and Australian Delegates Confident of Success at Ottawa

Welcomed By Federal, Provincial and Civic Dignitaries
at Luncheon Here

Confidence in the ability of the different dominions represented at the coming Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, to rebuild trade within the empire and to take the lead in showing the rest of the world the way out of depressed conditions, was voiced by Rt. Hon. Stanley M. Bruce, leader of the Australian party and Rt. Hon. J. G. Coates, head of the New Zealand group, officially welcomed to Canada at a luncheon given by the British Columbia Government in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

The two leaders of the Anzac delegation stressed the need for reciprocity in the dealings of the different sister dominions. Both strongly advised against a selfish course of seeking benefits solely for the countries they represented.

Greetings to the visitors were expressed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Senator A. D. McRae, representing the federal government; Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, who represented Premier Bennett; and Mayor David Leeming.

On behalf of the Australian group, Mr. Bruce expressed his appreciation for the splendid hospitality and warm welcome extended by British Columbia.

The arrival of the delegations from Australia and New Zealand marked a historic day in the annals of the empire, just as the Ottawa conference would mark a historic day. From it much could be expected.

Treaties between Canada and Australia, both essentially agricultural nations, had accomplished a great deal. Even greater benefits could be expected from the trade agreements made at the conference, since the different sister dominions were complementary producers, furnishing markets for one another's goods.

Mr. Bruce looked forward confidently to the successful completion of negotiations at Ottawa whereby the empire would again emerge as an object lesson to other countries of the world. Without hesitation he predicted the success of the conference.

As one of the dangers in its path he regarded any attitude on the part of any delegation to seek benefits solely for the country it represented. Reciprocity was an absolute essential.

The conference he saw as the foundation of a new structure of empire trade that would grow ever larger in the future.

STAND TOGETHER
The journey from the Antipodes to Canada had produced a splendid spirit of unanimity between Australian and New Zealand delegates. Rt. Hon. J. G. Coates told the gathering. Both groups had come prepared to do their utmost for the success of the conference.

New Zealand had done everything in its power to "pay its own way" by scaling down rates at home and making other adjustments to the trying times. But the country could not go ahead if the price it received from outside markets did not improve.

He looked to the conference to build up a much greater trade which would aid not only Australia, but the remainder of the Commonwealth of British Nations.

The empire had faced and overcome great difficulties in the past. He expected the Ottawa gathering to mark the ascendance of the sister dominions from their present straitened circumstances.

Mr. Coates referred to the recent Canadian-New Zealand trade treaty, noting Canada had by far the best of the bargain. Even at that, he remarked, the agreement was beneficial since it stimulated trade.

WOULD WIDEN SCOPE
The primary objective of the conference, to create greater trade between the dominions through a system of reciprocity, should not be bound entirely within the empire. It should be extended to take in other countries, he said. As far as New Zealand was concerned, it was assured the conference would achieve a success which would enable the empire to take the lead again in the field of economic reconstruction.

Should the conference be successful, it would be a great step forward in the road to recovery not only for the empire but for the world. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor said in his greetings to the Australian and New Zealand parties. It was fitting, he said, that the lead in this work, just as it had taken the lead in the industrial and economic movements throughout history.

If the imperial delegates were not successful, it was hardly to be hoped that any other country could succeed. Closing, His Honor wished the delegates every success in their deliberations.

Senator McRae welcomed the visitors on behalf of Premier Bennett. He emphasized the close kinship between Canada and Australia, and New Zealand, noting they depended largely for their futures on the development of the Pacific. Throughout Canada the visitors would find a spirit of interest and affection, he added.

DRAWN CLOSER TOGETHER
One thing of value he saw in the present depression. It had drawn more close together the dominions of the British Commonwealth of Nations. On behalf of Premier Bennett, he expressed confidence in the success of the conference.

Hon. J. W. Jones read a message of welcome from Premier Talmie. Individually he extended to the leaders of the province's greetings and spoke of the satisfactory manner in which previous treaties between Canada and New Zealand and Australia had worked out. He hoped to see further beneficial treaties between these nations in the near future.

There was no room for the word "failure" in the coming negotiations at Ottawa, Mayor Leeming stated in his welcome to the delegates on behalf of the city. He referred to the numerous contacts between Victoria and the people "down under," noting the visitors came from countries which had shown a wonderful spirit of compromise. He wished them every success in their deliberations.

SATISFIED WITH
PREPARATORY WORK
Vernon, B.C., July 15.—Satisfaction with the work completed on behalf of the province's fruit industry and general horticultural interests preparatory to the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa was expressed at a meeting of the provincial economic committee here yesterday afternoon.

E. J. Chambers, president of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, will leave to attend the conference on Friday, July 22. Those who are attending the meeting, in addition to Mr. Chambers, were R. H. Macdonald, president of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association; J. A. Grant, market commissioner; W. H. Robertson, provincial horticulturist; R. G. L. Clarke, Dominion fruit inspector, and Major M. V. McGuire.

HIJACK ATTEMPT IN VANCOUVER FAILS
Vancouver, July 15.—Two bandits made a bold but unsuccessful attempt yesterday afternoon to hijack a truck-load with several hundred dollars' worth of tobacco. They held up a driver for R. Tagashira and Co., East Cordova Street, at the rear of the Imperial Tobacco Company premises, Beatty Street. As the bandits were escaping with the truck, Nick Pappas pursued them in another truck, and they abandoned the vehicle about four blocks away and escaped in the C.P.R. yards.

BEER RUNNER WOUNDED
Niagara Falls, Ont., July 15.—Charles Youngman of Niagara Falls, N.Y., is in hospital with a revolver bullet in the right arm. He was shot when he and two other men were sighted landing a boat load of ale at Youngstown, N.Y.

When border patrolmen appeared Youngman and his companions, John and Steve Kunesh, started to row feverishly to the shore.

Youngman fell into the river when he was shot, but was pulled back into the boat. The Kunesh brothers are being deported back to the United States.

DUNCAN MAN NEW PRESIDENT

A. H. Peterson Honored By Island Boards of Trade
Yesterday

Saanich Will Be Host to Convention Next Year

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, July 15.—A. H. Peterson, Duncan, was yesterday afternoon elected president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, at the conclusion of the convention held at the Canadian Legion Hall. Capt. H. B. Babbington, Saanich, was elected vice-president and the convention accepted an invitation from the Saanich Board of Trade to meet next year at Saanich. M. C. Ironside, Nanaimo, secretary, was re-appointed by the executive.

At the afternoon session the convention endorsed a resolution from the Tofoino-Sproat Lake road and adopted a resolution asking the landowners to be permitted to trap muskrats at all times without a license.

A message was ordered sent Premier Bennett expressing the hope that the deliberations of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa would be "successful, fruitful and a shining example to the rest of the world." The resolution was offered by G. A. Cheek, Malahat.

A report from the fisheries committee was received, which approved the dollar license fee imposed on anglers but expressed the view that the revenue should accrue to the federal government instead of the provincial treasury. The committee considered licenses should be required of sportmen fishing in sea areas as well as inland waters. The committee recommended that two island rivers be set aside exclusively for fly fishing and favored prohibition of use of salmon eggs as bait.

W. W. Walkem, retiring president, presented his report of activities during his year of office, which was adopted.

On motion of E. J. Cronk, Port Alberni, thanks were tendered the Nanaimo Board for hospitality and to the speakers at the banquet held on Wednesday evening.

BE APPEALED
Nanaimo High School Reorganization to Be Investigated By Education Department

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, July 15.—The Nanaimo School Board yesterday evening received letters from three dismissed high school teachers, Miss Blanche McDonald, Mrs. Georgina Clark and Mr. O'Neill of Duncan, who are appealing their dismissals. A. S. Towell, school supervisor, has not yet appealed dismissal.

Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of education, has appointed C. W. O'Neill of Duncan to inquire into the dispute. He will meet the board next Monday.

Miss McDonald has only six months to serve to qualify for pension, and a petition asking that she be retained signed by many former students, was filed by the board.

The secretary reported 100 applications for positions were on file.

NATIONAL COUNCILS
MEET IN ALBERNI
Alberni, July 14.—One of the largest public gatherings ever held in Alberni took place Wednesday evening under the auspices of the National Councils of Canada. The meeting, which opened at 8 o'clock, continued almost until midnight, and a strong local council was formed with representative citizens on the executive.

Vigorous attacks were made upon the government and the party system by the National Council speakers and by others. Suggestions were made by persons in the audience as to additions to the existing platform of the councils and it was decided to submit these to a convention to be held in the city of Vancouver in the month of August.

The chair was occupied by J. Moore. It was intimated at the meeting that a public meeting would be held shortly in Port Alberni.

GRIM GUN BATTLE
Los Angeles, July 15.—Sniping from the windows of a shack with rifles and revolvers, James W. Brown, sixty-year-old white laborer, late yesterday killed a negro, shot a white woman through the hand, then killed himself as nearly 100 policemen closed in.

The neighborhood was thrown into a panic as Brown fired from a half a dozen weapons arranged along a wind-dowall.

Police said they believed he was driven to frenzy by the shouts of small boys playing in front of his two-room home. His body was found beneath the nest row of rifles and pistols from which he had sent bullet after bullet along the street.

Imperial Conference Delegates Confer on Empress of Britain

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Se. Empress of Britain, at Sea, July 15.—Delegates of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa who are being carried swiftly across the broad waters of the Atlantic, are making the most of the days at sea to polish up their preparations for the great gathering.

The seven British cabinet ministers, headed by Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council, to-day were busy in conferences with their industrial advisers, including some of the most prominent trade leaders of Great Britain, and also began a series of meetings with the South African, Indian, Northern Ireland and Southern Rhodesian delegates, all of whom are on board the Empress, to-day, which docks at Quebec city Monday morning.

Preliminary negotiations that were carried on between Britain and the Dominions and colonies were reviewed by the British leaders with the industrial advisers. Some time ago Britain submitted to each Dominion schedules indicating where tariff of other assistance would be considered of the greatest value to British exports. The Dominions replied and in some cases similar lists with suggestions about their own exports were submitted.

Exchanges of views followed these communications, and the meeting between the British government heads and British industrial leaders as this great white liner ploughed along her course towards Quebec was with the primary purpose of surveying the present situation. The situation with respect to the communications with the colonies was especially dealt with by Sir Philip Cunliffe-Later, Secretary of State for Colonial Affairs.

Mexican Woodsman Said to Have Found Plane Wreck Survivor; Unable to Speak

Mexico City, July 15.—One of two fliers who have been missing since June 27, when their plane disappeared over the Mexican interior on the way to Honduras, was reported alive to-day, but it was impossible immediately to ascertain which of the two the survivor was.

The men are Clarence McElroy, Medaryville, Ind., pilot of the plane, and Roy Gordon, resident of Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

Dispatches from San Geronimo said an Indian woodsman found the survivor, starving and unable to speak, five-miles east of there. An expedition from San Geronimo found the dead body of another man.
